

September 9, 2005

WWRL: How do you explain that man? What do you count for that, someone who is at least equal or if not worse than Saddam Hussian could possibly be given the card Blanche?

Shirin Nariman: Well I think the best word to use for that is the appeasement policy, that 'lets work out with this terrorist regime'. This is the wrong policy. It didn't work out for the past 16 years. European countries, France, England and Germany are very much into continuing negotiations with the Iranian regime.

WWRL: How seriously Americans want to know one thing. How serious a threat Ahmadinejad really is if he goes ahead with his plan to develop nuclear weapons?

Shirin Nariman: I think he is very serious news and everyone has to take it very seriously. I don't think the world would have peace if they have nuclear weapons in their hands, they will destroy .They are doing serious terrorist activities across the world, they are doing terrorist activities in Iraq right now, there are records. We have a website no2ahmadinejad.com.

Also very quickly we are having a press conference today at 11 o'clock at the Roosevelt hotel, Lexington suite.

We also have a rally on September 14 at 11am and we are inviting everyone to join us.